Of course, there are two sides to everything, but the butter is on but one, usually.

A cracking good time need not necessarily mean that something extra dry was opened.

The weather man has softened down some, and is now showing us that he has all grades, if he didn't give us but one kind for some time.

When the ex-President gets over African way, he might go ashore at Liberia and be President there for awhile, just to show those fellows how it's done.

It is usually safest in an argument to admit that there is just a bare possibility that you don't know anything about the subject matter under discussion.

If we all saw things just alike, the judges would have to go right off and hunt another job, the lawyers would close up and might go fishing, the—but why go further? The world wouldn't be worth living in.

It is impossible to run a paper for any length of time without making somebody feel like you were doing them an injustice, by putting things in at times that don't appeal to their sense of reason or fair play.

It is going to be mighty lonesome about the White House for a few weeks, after the President has backed up a dory to the rear door of the building and carted away his belongings, preparatory to leaving for his Eastern tour.

Some one has asked this fool question: "After March 4, what will we do with Fairbanks?" What have we ever done for him? Crude is the fly in the butter that is to be served to Mr. Taft about the time he gets seated good.

We have heard it said that mild winters were sure to result in much sickness during the following summer. Last winter was mild and the doctors say that last summer was a distressingly healthy summer, as a whole. Heard a doctor say the other day, that the doctors' work was getting scarcer every year. I thought it due to the country getting agreeable; the timber is not being worked for turpentine, and the sickness of rotting wood is no longer produces the fevers that it once did. He thinks that surgery is our only means of offering something for the doctors to do in this section. He hopes that automobiles, flying machines, and other modern inventions, will give the doctor enough to do to keep him from being lonesome and blue.

NEW DECATUR DAILY.

Decatur, Ala., Feb. 15.—The first issue of the Twin City Daily Telegram has made its appearance at last after several days of delay caused by the railroads failing to get the machinery for the plant here in time. The paper is published in New Decatur and is a seven column six page publication. It will be printed every afternoon except Sunday. The Hearst News Service is used. A. E. Hewlett is president and J. W. Hewlett is business manager. Both are late of the Cullman, Ala. Tribune.

TEDDY'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

From a letter to the New York World.

On the Sunday before Roosevelt goes out of office please print in succinct form and in chronological order an epitome of the remarkable things he has done during his seven years as President, such as:

1. His interference in Central American affairs, sending warships to Panama, etc.
 2. Settling anthracite coal strike.
 3. Special messages to Congress denouncing individuals.
 4. Booker Washington dinner.
 5. Advising mothers of families.
 6. Repealing Noah Webster.
 7. Denouncing Jack London.
 8. Sending White House heir looms (government property) to the basement and to the junk dealer.
 9. Reinstating West Point cadets.
 10. Naval parade at Oyster Bay for his own pleasure.
 11. Reviving old English libel laws.
 12. Brief statement of facts of each initiation into the Annapolis club.
 13. His career as a non-trust buster—Paul Morton, Harriman, etc.
 14. Licensing the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company.
- A brief history of these and other doings of Roosevelt would be valuable to those who wish to refer to his administration from time to time, and ought to be embraced in the next World almanac.

SAYS WHITE RACE CAN'T STAND.

Sacramento, Feb. 15.—Assemblyman A. N. Drew of Fresno, who recently introduced an anti-alien land bill, preached at the Central Methodist church last night. He said:

"The history of the world teaches that the comingling of the white and the yellow or the white and the black races always brings the white race down and never brings the yellow or the black races up. It results in a shiftless, mongrel race, that the world does not want."

"The South American countries were settled with the peoples of Spain and the negro blood and that is the thing that plagues the South American lands where they are."

"The Monroe doctrine was one of the most pernicious the world had ever known. The country teems with natural wealth, but the people who inhabit it are the most worthless in the world. And now the Monroe doctrine has crossed the continent to California. I submit to you that the white race never has and never can stand where the yellow or the black race meet. If conditions go on as they are now it will not be fifty years until the white race becomes the typewriters and the servants of the yellow. To compete with the yellow race the white man would starve to death."

SCRATCH-PAD REFLECTIONS.

The strangest thing about the fellow who declares that he never told a lie is that he really expects somebody to believe him.

When one man insists on being the whole show, the audience is apt to kick because it didn't get its money's worth.

People who are always swearing off usually have neither a due appreciation of the importance of an oath or the strength to hold out.

Often the attitude of the reformer is simply a matter of form.

Women who get married for pique usually pay dearly for it.

Weddings for show purposes are usually unprofitable to everybody but the modiste, the florist and the preacher.

Ave assisted by pain is apt to tell on a woman.

Striking people are seldom struck on themselves.

As a rule a man who thinks he knows it all doesn't think much.

It takes a trip around the world to convince some people that they are not the whole cheese.

Women say a great many things that they don't mean in order to create a bunch of surprise.

When a man is on good terms with all his neighbors it's a pretty good sign that he behaves himself.

Some preachers making bid for large congregations would do well to try the Gospel for a change.

Attending to your own business keeps the other fellow from getting it away from you.

The correct definition of a flim-flammer these days seems to be the man who can get money out of the advice he doesn't give somebody else.

When a young man casts his first vote he puts it where it will show the most; after awhile he puts it where it will have the most effect.

There never was a woman who could not fool a man who thinks he is immune.

Some men pay a dollar to go to a lecture because they can get the free kind at home.

The world could easily get along with one-tenth of the after-dinner speeches that are delivered these days and are better off for it.

One of the easiest things in the world is to make a fool of yourself without being conscious that you are doing it.
